

Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Triple Eight Supplies Ltd

Introduction

From the time of the company's foundation in 1998 the Board of Directors has adhered to all UK governance covering staff directly employed. An Ethical Sourcing and Sociable Responsibility Policy was incorporated in the company's operations manual a number of years ago.

The company joined SEDEX in 2021 as a step towards the provision of clarity to our partners in business. We adhere to the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act (2015). A Modern Slavery Act statement was recorded and signed on behalf of Triple Eight Supplies Ltd on 15th February 2021. This will be reviewed as required on an ongoing basis.

Our employment terms and conditions are regularly assessed to ensure compliance. We require our suppliers follow suit.

Organisational Structure and Supply Chains

We are a UK specialist storage and distribution company based in Westbury, Wiltshire.

We purchase frozen, chilled and ambient foods from responsibly sound worldwide sources. Our policy has always been to establish long term trading arrangements with good and ethically responsible suppliers.

Policies

We work with suppliers who we believe endorse responsible labour and human rights practices for all employees. Our suppliers endeavour to ensure that their terms of employment fulfil all local legislative and social requirements and that working practices are safe alongside complying with the Modern Slavery Act (2015). Copies of the Modern Slavery Act (2015) have been forwarded to our Directors, our buyers and our agents. Additional to this UK requirement we go further and incorporate the requirements of the international Labour Organisation. Where possible, we require suppliers to hold 3rd party accreditation especially where human rights form part of that accreditation, e.g. BRC, MSC, ASC and BAP.

Due Diligence

We comply with our legal requirements to scrutinise and establish the bona fides of employment applicants.

Risk Assessment

Site visits and trading relationships are developed bearing in mind good working practices, local employment regulations and the Modern Slavery Act (2015).

Measuring Effectiveness

Where an incident should be brought to the light of mistreatment of employees, we would report the matter to the relevant authorities and transfer our purchasing to alternative suppliers who satisfy our rigorous requirements.

Through our engagement with The Seafish Industry Authority notifications of incidents and poor practices are monitored.

Abroad, in our main supply areas, we have our own offices and representation. Where not, local agents are established to engage with suppliers directly on our behalf and report on their suitability.

Training for Staff

A copy of a practical guide is available to all employees and overseas representatives and agents in order to give everybody involved in our supply chains an understanding of the requirements of the Act.
